Saxo Capital Markets is entitled to make the necessary corrections in the Client's account according to actual market quoted price in question at the time when the error occurred;

- iii Saxo Capital Markets may offer "real-time" tradable prices to the Client. However due to order transmission lag between the Client and Saxo Capital Markets/ or to the relevant regulated markets/exchanges or Counterparties for acceptance and execution of the order, the real time price the Client intends to trade at may have changed before an order from the Client is received by Saxo Capital Markets.  - vii Client shall be liable to Saxo Capital Markets for Contracts executed by means of the Client's assigned password even if such use might be unauthorised or wrongful (whether as between the Client and the third party or as between the Client and Saxo Capital Markets or both);
 - viii Regardless of the fact that the Trading Platform might confirm that a Contract is executed immediately when the Client transmits instructions via the Trading Platform, it is the Trade Confirmation forwarded by Saxo Capital Markets or made available to the Client on the Trading Platform which alone constitutes Saxo Capital Markets' confirmation of a Contract.
- 4.4. Any instruction sent via the Trading Platform or by e-mail by the Client shall only be deemed to have been received and shall only then constitute a valid instruction and/or binding Contract between Saxo Capital Markets and the Client when such instruction has been recorded as executed by Saxo Capital Markets and confirmed by Saxo Capital Markets to the Client through the Trade Confirmation and/or Account Statement, and the mere transmission of an instruction by the Client shall not constitute a binding Contract between Saxo Capital Markets and the Client.
- 4.5. The Client shall promptly provide any further instructions or information to Saxo Capital Markets which Saxo Capital Markets may require for the proper execution of the Client's instructions. If the Client does not provide such instructions/ information promptly, Saxo Capital Markets may, as it may in good faith deem fit, take such steps at the Client's cost, as Saxo Capital Markets considers necessary or desirable for its own protection or the protection of the Client. This provision is similarly applicable in situations when Saxo Capital Markets is unable to reach the Client to communicate with the Client for the Client's instructions where Saxo Capital Markets reasonably requires the same.

- 4.6. If the Client does not provide Saxo Capital Markets with notice of its intention to exercise an option or another Contract which requires an instruction from the Client at the time stipulated by Saxo Capital Markets, Saxo Capital Markets may treat the option or Contract as abandoned by the Client. If a Contract can be prolonged on expiry, Saxo Capital Markets may at its reasonable discretion choose to prolong or to close such Contract.
- 4.7. Saxo Capital Markets may (but shall not in any circumstances be obliged to) require confirmation in such form as Saxo Capital Markets may reasonably request if an instruction is to close an Account or remit money due to the Client or if it appears to Saxo Capital Markets that such confirmation is necessary or desirable.
- 4.8. Pursuant to general rules regarding power of attorney, the Client is accountable to Saxo Capital Markets for losses which Saxo Capital Markets may suffer as a result of instructions from a person who has an express power of attorney in his favour to give Saxo Capital Markets instructions on behalf of the Client. The Client acknowledges and accepts that Saxo Capital Markets is not obliged to accept the appointment by the Client of any third party as the Client's agent or attorney where this would, in the good faith opinion of Saxo Capital Markets, be contrary to prudential or regulatory compliance rules to which it has adopted or is subject to.
- 4.9. Saxo Capital Markets may, in its sole discretion and without explanation, refuse to act upon any instruction or otherwise to prevent the transmission of any of Client's instructions for execution on any relevant market or exchange.
- 4.10. In general, Saxo Capital Markets shall act upon the instructions of the Clients which are otherwise then inputted through the Trading Platform on a self-execution basis, Saxo Capital Markets shall act according to instructions as soon as practically possible and shall, as far as trading instructions are concerned, act where such trading instructions are received by and need to be onward relayed by Saxo Capital Markets, rather than transmitted directly to Counterparties or relevant exchanges for execution and/or clearing consistently with the Saxo Capital Markets' Best Execution Policy. However if, after instructions are received, Saxo Capital Markets believes that it is not reasonably practicable to act upon such instructions within a reasonable time, Saxo Capital Markets may defer acting upon those instructions until it is, in Saxo Capital Markets' reasonable opinion, practicable to do so or notify the Client that Saxo Capital Markets is refusing to act upon such instructions.
- 4.11. It is possible that errors may occur in the prices of transactions quoted on the Trading Platform or otherwise stated by Saxo Capital Markets as available. In such circumstances, without prejudice to any rights it may have under the laws of Singapore, Saxo Capital Markets shall not be bound by any Contract which purports to have been made (whether or not confirmed by Saxo Capital Markets) at a price which:
- i Saxo Capital Markets is able to substantiate to the Client was manifestly incorrect at the time of the transaction; or
 - ii was, or ought reasonably to have been, known by the Client to be incorrect at the time of the transaction. In which case Saxo Capital Markets reserves the right to either 1) cancel the trade altogether or 2) correct the erroneous price at which the trade was done to either the price at which Saxo Capital Markets hedged the trade or alternatively to the historic correct market price.

- 4.12. Trading strategies aimed at exploiting errors in prices and/or concluding trades at off-market prices (commonly known as “sniping”) are not accepted by Saxo Capital Markets. Provided that Saxo Capital Markets can document that there were, at the time of such conclusion of the trade, errors in prices, commissions, or in the Trading Platform, and provided Saxo Capital Markets can render reasonably probable that the Client, based on its trading strategy or other provable behaviour, deliberately and/ or systematically has exploited or attempted to exploit such an error, Saxo Capital Markets is entitled to take one or more of the following countermeasures:
- i Adjust the price spreads available to the Client;
 - ii Restrict the Client’s access to streaming, instantly tradable quotes, including providing manual quotation only;
 - iii Retrieve and reverse from the Client’s account any historic trading profits that Saxo Capital Markets can document have been gained through such abuse of liquidity, at any time during the client relationship; and/or
 - iv Terminate the client relationship immediately by giving written notice.
- 4.13. If the Client is more than one person (ie. joint accountholders):
- i the liabilities of each of such persons shall be direct, joint and several;
 - ii Saxo Capital Markets may act upon instructions received from any Authorised Person or inputted by means of the Client’s assigned password even if such use might be unauthorised or wrongful as between Client and the person who inputted the instructions;
 - iii any notice or other communication provided by Saxo Capital Markets to one such person shall be deemed to have been provided to all such persons; and
 - iv the rights of Saxo Capital Markets under Clause 18 shall apply if an event described in Clause 18 shall be deemed to have occurred in respect of any one of such persons.
- 4.14. The Client agrees that Saxo Capital Markets may record all telephone conversations, internet conversations (chat), and meetings between the Client and Saxo Capital Markets and use such recordings, or transcripts from such recordings, as evidence towards any party (including, but not limited to, any regulatory authority and/or court of law or dispute resolution body) to whom Saxo Capital Markets at its reasonable discretion sees it to be desirable or necessary to disclose such information in any dispute or anticipated dispute between Saxo Capital Markets and the Client. However, technical reasons may prevent Saxo Capital Markets from recording a conversation, and recordings or transcripts made by Saxo Capital Markets will be destroyed in accordance with Saxo Capital Markets’ normal practice. Consequently, the Client should not rely on such recordings to be available.
- 4.15. When the Client instructs Saxo Capital Markets to enter into a position which is opposite to one or more of the Client’s open positions, Saxo Capital Markets will close out the opposite position in accordance with the FIFO principles unless the position has related orders permitted to be simultaneously maintained under relevant Market Rules or if otherwise so agreed and permitted under relevant laws.
- 4.16. Despite 4.15 above, the Client acknowledges that Saxo Capital Markets has the right to but not the obligation to close directly opposite positions, where such positions are not obliged to be closed out under relevant laws. This applies not only when the positions are held on the same Account but also when they are held on separate Accounts (or sub-accounts).
- 4.17. (a) If the Client operates several Accounts (or sub-accounts) and opposite positions are opened on different Accounts (or sub-accounts), Saxo Capital Markets shall not close out such positions (where it is not obliged to do so under relevant laws) until instructed to do so by the Client. The Client is also specifically made aware that unless he provides instructions to close the opposite positions, all such positions may be rolled over on a continuous basis and thereby consequently all positions incur a cost for such roll-over.
- (b) Furthermore, where the Client has opened more than one Account with Saxo Capital Markets, Saxo Capital Markets will treat such Accounts as entirely separate. However, Saxo Capital Markets may in its discretion use available funds in one Account to discharge the liabilities incurred in respect of another Account.
- (c) While operating various Accounts with Saxo Capital Markets, the Client acknowledges that he is responsible for all transactions entered into and the onus is on the Client to ensure that the trades are placed through the correct Account. This clause also covers all phone-in orders placed by the Client with Saxo Capital Markets. The Client also accepts responsibility for all charges (including currency conversion charges levied by Saxo Capital Markets for trades executed). Such charges levied will not be refundable or reversible by Saxo Capital Markets even if the Client has by mistake executed the trade through the wrong Account.
- 4.18. The technical requirements to which the Client’s IT equipment, operating system, Internet connection etc. shall conform are described on Saxo Capital Markets’ website.
- 4.19. When the Client’s account is ready for use, Saxo Capital Markets sends the Client a link for downloading the Trading Platform, his user ID and password. When logging on to the Trading Platform for the first time, the Client generates his activation key which he can generate by contacting Saxo Capital Markets Client Services.
- 4.20. The Client shall enter his user ID and password when logging on to the Trading Platform. The Client should memorise the password. Entering an incorrect password five times in a row will automatically terminate the connection and block the user ID. If the Client suspects that the password has been disclosed to a third party, the Client shall contact Saxo Capital Markets Client Services immediately to block his Trading Platform. The Client can then order a new password.
- 4.21. The Client can block his Trading Platform at any time by contacting Saxo Capital Markets Client Services. Blocking the Trading Platform prevents other persons from accessing it. Open orders and positions placed on the platform before the blocking will not be affected by the blocking unless the Client specifically requests so, and the Client is responsible for deciding about his positions.
- 4.22. The right to use the Trading Platform is personal, and the Client shall not allow other persons to use his user ID and/ or his password. If the Client wants to allow a third party to distinctly be able to trade on the Client’s account, the Client shall issue a separate power of attorney to the relevant third party. The power of attorney shall be written on one of Saxo Capital Markets’ power of attorney forms. The issue of the power of attorney shall be approved by Saxo Capital Markets. A personal user ID and password shall be provided to the holder of the power of attorney by Saxo Capital Markets. - 12.8. This netting agreement shall be binding on the estate and creditors of the parties to the client relationship.

13 MARKET MAKING

- 13.1. When Saxo Capital Markets executes orders as Agent for the Client on a recognised stock or futures exchange to which it is not a member, Saxo Capital Markets will not be a party to the Contract as such orders will be executed in the trading system of the relevant exchange at the best price and the most favourable conditions available at the time of the order or according to the Client's specific instructions, e.g. in a situation where the Client has chosen to limit the order. Saxo Capital Markets will not include any additional spread in the price of the execution achieved for the Client but will be remunerated according to the Commission, Charges & Margin Schedule.
- 13.2. The Client is specifically made aware that in certain markets, including but - not necessarily limited to - foreign exchange markets, OTC foreign exchange options and CFD Contracts, entities within the Saxo Bank Group may act as a market maker for such Contracts and may even be principal to Saxo Capital Markets (even if as between Saxo Capital Markets and the Client Saxo Capital Markets is acting as the Client's agent).
- 13.3. Saxo Capital Markets will, upon the Client's written request, in general disclose to the Client whether Saxo Bank Group may act as a market maker in a certain instrument.
- 13.4. When Saxo Bank Group is acting as a market maker, Saxo Capital Markets will under normal market circumstances quote the Client bid and ask prices.
- 13.5. In order for Saxo Capital Markets to quote prices with the swiftness normally associated with speculative trading, Saxo Capital Markets may have to rely on available price or available information that may later prove to be faulty due to specific market circumstances, for instance, but not limited to, lack of liquidity in or suspension of an asset or errors in feeds from information providers or quotes from Counterparties. If so and if Saxo Capital Markets has acted in good faith when providing the price to the Client, Saxo Capital Markets may cancel the trade with the Client but shall do so within reasonable time and shall provide the Client with a full explanation for the reason for such cancellation.
- 13.6. Following execution of any Contract where a member of Saxo Bank Group may be counter-party to Saxo Capital Markets (even where Saxo Capital Markets is, as between itself and the Client, the Client's agent) such Saxo Bank Group member may, at its discretion offset its exposure under the Contract with a third party or retain a proprietary position in the Contract. Such decisions and actions may therefore result in Saxo Bank Group offsetting client positions at prices different -sometimes significantly different - from prices quoted to clients, resulting in trading profits or losses for Saxo Bank Group. This in turn can raise the possibility of the Client incurring what may be misperceived as an implied cost (i.e. the difference between the price at which the Contract with Saxo Bank Group was done and the price at which Saxo Bank Group subsequently traded with third parties to offset or offload its own exposure on the Contract) due to any profits realised by Saxo Bank Group as a result of the market making function. However the market making function also involve significant costs and risk to Saxo Bank Group if the market moves against Saxo Bank Group as compared to the price at which Saxo Capital Markets traded with the Client. The Client accepts and agrees that the risk of such price spread is inherent and not unfair or unreasonable.
- 13.7. The Client accepts that Saxo Capital Markets in such markets where Saxo Bank Group acts as Market Maker, it may hold positions that are contrary to positions of the Client, resulting in potential conflicts of interest between Saxo Bank Group and clients.
- 13.8. In markets, where other Saxo Bank Group entities acts as a Market Maker to Saxo Capital Markets, the Client accepts that Saxo Capital Markets has no obligation to ensure they will quote prices at all times in any given market, nor to quote such prices to Saxo Capital Markets with a specific maximum spread.

- 13.9. In markets, where Saxo Bank Group acts as a market maker, Saxo Capital Markets may or may not charge commissions. However, irrespective of whether or not Saxo Capital Markets charges any commissions, the Client accepts that Saxo Bank Group will seek to make additional profits out of its performance as a market maker
- 13.10. The Client acknowledges, recognises and accepts that the price quoted to the Client where the Contract is one for which Saxo Bank Group acts as market maker includes a spread when compared with the price to which the market maker may have covered or expected to be able to cover its own exposure with respect to the Contract. The same applies where Saxo Capital Markets is a principal to the Client under any Contract. Furthermore, the Client acknowledges, recognises and accepts that said spread constitutes remuneration to Saxo Bank Group or Saxo Capital Markets (as relevant) and that such spread will not be specified at the Trade Confirmation or otherwise expressly revealed to the Client.
- 13.11. The Client is specifically made aware that in the area of market making in foreign exchange, OTC foreign exchange options, CFD Contracts and other OTC products, significant implied costs can arise as a consequence of the profits made by Saxo Bank Group performing in its capacity as a market maker or by Saxo Capital Markets where it acts as principal to the Client.
- 13.12. Saxo Bank Group's gains as a market maker and Saxo Capital Markets where it acts as principal to the Client may negatively affect the Client's Account with Saxo Capital Markets and the said implied costs are neither directly visible nor directly quantifiable for the Client at any time.
- 13.13. Saxo Bank Group is at no time under any obligation to, nor will Saxo Bank Group, at any time disclose any details of its performance or income produced as a market maker or otherwise related to other commissions, charges and fees. The same applies for Saxo Capital Markets where it acts as principal to the Client
- 13.14. The Client is specifically made aware that CFD Contracts may be OTC products quoted by Saxo Capital Markets whilst Saxo Bank Group is operating as a market maker and not traded on a recognised stock exchange. As a result, the description above of the implied, not visible costs related to Saxo Bank Group's performance as a market maker may also apply to any CFD Contract.

14 AGGREGATION AND SPLIT

- 14.1. Saxo Capital Markets is in accordance with its Best Execution Policy, where relevant laws so permit, be entitled to aggregate the Client's orders with its own orders, orders of any of its associates and/or persons connected with the Saxo Bank Group including employees and other clients. Furthermore, Saxo Capital Markets may split the Client's orders when executing these. The orders will only be aggregated or split if Saxo Capital Markets reasonably believes it to be in the best interests of the Client. On some occasions aggregation and split of the Client's order may on some occasions result in the Client obtaining a less favourable price than if the Client's orders had been executed respectively separately or mutually.

15 CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

- 15.1. Saxo Capital Markets, its associates or other persons or companies connected with Saxo Capital Markets or Saxo Bank Group may have an interest, relationship or arrangement that is material in relation to any transaction or Contract effected, or advice provided by Saxo Capital Markets, under the Terms. RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENT REQUIRED TO BE FURNISHED UNDER REGULATION 47E (1) AND TO BE KEPT UNDER REGULATION 39(2)(c) BY THE HOLDER OF A CAPITAL MARKETS SERVICES LICENSE TO TRADE IN FUTURES CONTRACTS OR LEVERAGED FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTRACTS, CFD'S AND SECURITIES.

This statement is provided to you in accordance with regulation 47E(1) of the Securities and Futures (Licensing and Conduct of Business) Regulations (Rg10).

This statement does not disclose all the risks and other significant aspects of trading in futures, options and leveraged foreign exchange. In light of the risks, you should undertake such transactions only if you understand the nature of the contracts (and contractual relationships) into which you are entering and the extent of your exposure to the risks. Trading in futures, options and leveraged foreign exchange may not be suitable for many members of the public. You should carefully consider whether such trading is appropriate for you in the light of your experience, objectives, financial resources and other relevant circumstances. In considering whether to trade, you should be aware of the following:

LEVERAGED FOREIGN EXCHANGE TRADING, CFD'S AND FUTURES

1. Effect of "Leverage" or "Gearing"

Transactions in leveraged foreign exchange, CFD's and futures carry a high degree of risk. The amount of initial margin is small relative to the value of the leveraged foreign exchange transaction, CFD's or futures contract so that transactions are "leveraged" or "geared". A relatively small market movement will have a proportionately larger impact on the funds you have deposited or will have to deposit; this may work against you as well as for you. You may sustain a total loss of initial margin funds and any additional funds deposited with the firm to maintain your position. If the market moves against your position or margin levels are increased, you may be called upon to pay substantial additional funds on short notice to maintain your position. If you fail to comply with a request for additional funds within the specified time, your position may be liquidated at a loss and you will be liable for any resulting deficit in your account.

2. Risk-reducing Orders or Strategies

The placing of certain orders (e.g. "stop-loss" orders, where permitted under local law, or "stop-limit" orders), which are intended to limit losses to certain amounts, may not be effective because markets conditions make it impossible to execute such orders. At times, it is also difficult or impossible to liquidate a position without incurring substantial losses. Strategies using combinations of positions, such as "spread" and "straddle" positions may be as risky as taking simple "long" or "short" positions.

OPTIONS

3. Variable Degree of Risk

Transactions in options carry a high degree of risk. Purchasers and sellers of options should familiarize themselves with the type of option (i.e., put or call) which they contemplate trading and the associated risks. You should calculate the extent to which the value of the options must increase for your position to become profitable, taking into account the premium and all transaction costs.

The purchaser of options may offset or exercise the options or allow the option to expire. The exercise of an option results either in a cash settlement or in the purchaser acquiring or delivering the underlying interest. If the option is on a future or leveraged foreign exchange transaction, the purchaser will acquire a futures or leveraged foreign exchange transaction position, as the case may be, with associated liabilities for margin - (see the section on Leveraged Foreign Exchange, CFD's and Futures above). If the purchased option expires worthless, you will suffer a total loss of your investment, which will consist of the option premium plus transaction costs. If you are contemplating purchasing deep-out-of-the-money options, you should be aware that the chance of such options becoming profitable ordinarily is remote.

Selling ("writing" or "granting") an option generally entails considerably greater risk than purchasing options. Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may sustain a loss well in excess of the amount of premium received. The seller will be liable for additional margin to maintain the position if the market moves unfavourably. The seller will also be exposed to the risk of the purchaser exercising the option and the seller will be obligated to either settle the option in cash or to acquire or deliver the underlying interest. If the option is on a futures contract or a leveraged foreign exchange transaction, the seller will acquire a futures or leveraged foreign exchange position, as the case may be, with associated liabilities for margin (see the section on Leveraged Foreign Exchange, CFDs and Futures above). If the option is "covered" by the seller holding a corresponding position in the underlying futures contract, leveraged foreign exchange transaction or another option, the risk may be reduced. If the option is not covered, the risk of loss can be unlimited.

Certain exchanges in some jurisdictions permit deferred payment of the option premium, exposing the purchaser to liability for margin payments not exceeding the amount of the premium. The purchaser is still subject to the risk of losing the premium and transaction costs. When the option is exercised or expires, the purchaser is responsible for any unpaid premium outstanding at that time.

4. Stock Exchange Markets

Transactions in securities will expose you to the volatility of the various stock exchange markets in which the shares, stocks, warrants, bonds, debentures, notes debts securities and other securities within the definition of "securities" under the Securities and Futures Act (Cap 289) (collectively the "securities") are traded. In particular, the value of securities may experience downward movements and may under some circumstances even become valueless. Hence there is an inherent risk that losses rather than profits may be incurred as a result of buying or selling securities.

Saxo Capital Markets is entitled to act upon your instructions and you cannot assume that we will warn you if your instructions are ill-timed or inadvisable for any reason or if the instructions are likely to cause you loss.

Owing to the volatility of the stock exchange markets, it may not be practicable for Saxo Capital Markets to contact you prior to any sale and/or purchase of securities pursuant to any agreement.

You will be exposed to risks of bad delivery of securities purchased. There are also risks involved in not registering purchased securities in your name, in the name of your nominee or custodian.

ADDITIONAL RISKS COMMON TO LEVERAGED FOREIGN EXCHANGE TRADING, CFD'S, FUTURES, OPTIONS AND SECURITIES

5. Terms and Conditions of Contracts

You should ask the corporation with which you conduct your transactions about the terms and conditions of the specific CFD, futures contract, option or leveraged foreign exchange transaction which you are trading and associated obligations (e.g. the circumstances under which you may become obligated to make or take delivery of the underlying interest of a futures contract and, in respect of options, expiration dates and restrictions on the time for exercise). Under certain circumstances the specifications of outstanding contracts (including the exercise price of an option) may be modified by the exchange or clearing house to reflect changes in the underlying interest.

6. Suspension or Restriction of Trading and Pricing Relationships

Market condition (e.g., illiquidity) and/or the operation of the rules of certain markets (e.g., the suspension of trading in any contract or contract month because of price limits or "circuit breakers") may increase the risk of loss by making it difficult or impossible to effect transactions or liquidate/offset positions. If you have sold options, this may increase the risk of loss.

Further, normal pricing relationships between the underlying interest and the futures contract, and the underlying interest and the option may not exist. This can occur when, for example, the futures contract underlying the option is subject to price limits while the option is not. The absence of an underlying reference price may make it difficult to judge "fair" value.

7. Deposited Cash and Property

You should familiarize yourself with the protection accorded to any money or other property you deposit for domestic and foreign transactions, particularly in the event of a firm insolvency or bankruptcy. The extent to which you may recover your money or property may be governed by specific legislation or local rules. In some jurisdictions, property which had been specifically identifiable as your own will be pro-rated in the same manner as cash for purposes of distribution in the event of a shortfall.

8. Commission and Other Charges

Before you begin to trade, you should obtain a clear explanation of all commissions, fees and other charges for which you will be liable. These charges will affect your net profit (if any) or increase your loss.

9. Transactions In Other Jurisdictions

Transactions on markets in other jurisdictions, including markets formally linked to a domestic market, may expose you to additional risk. Such markets may be subject to regulation, which may offer different or diminished investor protection. Before you trade, you should enquire about any rules relevant to your particular transaction. Your local regulatory authority will be unable to compel the enforcement of the rules of regulatory authorities or markets in other jurisdictions where your transactions have been effected. You should ask the firm with which you conduct your transactions for details about the types of redress available in both your home jurisdiction and other relevant jurisdictions before you start to trade.

10. Currency Risks

The profit or loss in transactions in foreign currency-denominated futures and options contracts (whether they are traded in your own or another jurisdiction) will be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the currency denomination of the contract to another currency.

11. Trading Facilities

Most open-outcry and electronic trading facilities are supported by computer-based component systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. Your ability to recover certain losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by one or more parties, namely the system provider, the market, the clearing house or member firms. Such limits may vary. You should ask the firm with which you conduct your transactions for details in this respect.

12. Electronic Trading

Trading on an electronic trading system may differ not only from trading in an open-outcry market but also from trading on other electronic trading systems. If you undertake transactions on an electronic trading system, you will be exposed to risks associated with the system including the failure of hardware and software. The result of any system failure may be that your order is either not executed according to your instructions or not executed at all.

13. Off-Exchange Transactions

In some jurisdictions, firms are permitted to effect off-exchange transactions. The firm with which you conduct your transaction may be acting as your counterpart to the transaction. It may be difficult or impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value, to determine a fair price or to assess the exposure to risk. For these reasons, these transactions may involve increased risks. Off-exchange transactions may be less regulated or subject to a separate regulatory regime. Before you undertake such transactions, you should familiarize yourself with applicable rules and attendant risks.

RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENT REQUIRED TO BE FURNISHED
UNDER SECTION 32(1) OF THE COMMODITY TRADING ACT
(CAP 48A) AND REGULATION 28(7) OF THE COMMODITY
TRADING REGULATIONS 2001 BY A COMMODITY BROKER TO TRADE IN COMMODITY CFD'S

1. This statement is provided to you in accordance with Section 32(1) of the Commodity Trading Act.
2. The intention of this statement is to inform you that the risk of loss in trading in commodity contracts and in spot commodity contracts can be substantial and that your losses can exceed your deposits. You should therefore carefully consider whether such trading is suitable for you in light of your financial condition and you should only trade after knowing and accepting the risks associated with such trading.
3. In considering whether to trade, you should be aware of the following:
 - (a) Margin: You may sustain a total loss of the initial margin and any additional margins that you deposit to establish a position or maintain positions in the commodity market. If the market moves against your positions, you may be called upon to deposit a substantial amount of additional margins, on short notice, in order to maintain your positions. If you do not provide the required margins within the prescribed time, your positions may be liquidated at a loss, and you will be liable for any resulting deficit in your account.
 - (b) Liquidation of position: Under certain market conditions, you may find it difficult or impossible to liquidate a position.
 - (c) Contingent orders: Placing contingent orders, such as "stop-loss" or "stop-limit" order, will not necessarily limit your losses to the intended amounts, since market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders especially in rapidly moving markets.
 - (d) "Spread" position: Certain strategies such as a "spread" position may not be less risky than a simple "long" or "short" position.
 - (e) Leverage: The high degree of leverage that is often obtainable, trading in commodity contracts and spot commodity trading because of the small margin requirements can work against you as well as for you. Please note that trading risks are magnified by leverage - where losses can exceed your deposit.
 - (f) Foreign markets transactions: If applicable, funds placed with a commodity broker for the purpose of participating in foreign markets may not enjoy the same level of protection as funds placed in commodity markets located in Singapore.
4. This brief statement is merely a summary of risks involved in trading in commodity contracts.
